THEY GET SOMETHING

The Seminole Indians of Florida will get $10,099 for the United States government's violation of the treaty of 1856. The court of claims thus has terminated a 39-year legal battle. As recently as 1935, the same court deemed violation of that treaty as worth $1,317,087 to the Seminoles; but the Supreme Court of the United States thought differently. It ordered reduction of that award; and the court of claims has done a thorough job of reducing.

The Seminoles' claim arose from the action of Congress in 1898 in stopping payment on four trust funds set up for the Florida Indians. Despite repeated efforts by the Seminoles to collect on the basis of treaty promises, the trust funds have remained unproductive for almost two score years. Now the Indians finally get $10,099. There aren't so many Seminoles as there used to be; and they probably are used to getting along on mighty little money.

So perhaps Florida's red men will console themselves with the reflection that, after all, they have been luckier in their dealings with the white man's government than many of their fellow-Indians have been.

NEEDLESS ALARM

One of the most interesting and novel of the projects presumably designed to keep white-collar unemployed busy, is the "soil inventory" conducted with WPA funds under direction of scientists connected with the New Jersey agricultural experiment station at New Brunswick. The conclusions are terrifying.

The report says that agriculture in this country must "die of its own neglect, and the population will follow suit" unless means can be found to restore fertility that is being wasted through erosion, leaching and various other causes blamed on bad management of the farmers. Soil samples from 48 states were used. "These losses," says the report, "are continuing despite replacements by fertilizer, manure, rain and irrigation, seeds and fixed nitrogen."

It all sounds bad till one checks up some Government crop statistics. Then he wonders when this soil famine is going to begin to take effect.

The average wheat production in this country from 1866 to 1875 was 12 bushels to the acre. From 1924 to 1931 the average production was almost 14 bushels to the acre, and on two of the intervening years average production for the country was above 16 bushels to the acre.

Potatoes require good soil and plenty of fertilization. The average yield of potatoes in the country from 1866 to 1905 was 83 bushels an acre. The average production from 1924 to 1934 was more than 111 bushels an acre.

Our new envoy to Moscow has the diplomatic touch. After a tour of the country he says Soviet progress is "amazing," which can mean anything.

A French savant sees no reason why one shouldn't live to be 200 with proper breathing. We have always heard that breathing was the absolute minimum.

Columnist Dorothy Thompson says that men never recognize dictators in advance. They seem like sweet girls and nothing more, until after the ceremony.

"New Movement in Real Estate" is rated good news locally, or a headache in the dust storm country.

ECHOES OF THE PAST

By Courier Staff Member

Review of the news as it appeared in the Bucks County Gazette issue dated at Bristol, Nov. 18, 1875. The Gazette, a weekly newspaper published in Bristol, was discontinued following its merger with the Courier.

The readings and recitations of J. E. Doyle at Cabene's Hall last Saturday evening was attended by a small audience. Mr. Doyle proved to be unequal to the occasion, and, although professing to have first-class recommendations, soon showed that he was an unmitigated fraud. It is a consolation, though a small one, to know that he did not reap a very heavy reward for his services; for after his board and printing bills were paid, he had $1.77 as the net result of his labors in this borough. . . . We understand he begged enough money to enable him to leave town.

The fast mail this morning for New York, took the Bristol pouch on board for the first time.
Burlington sends her New York mail to Bristol to be forwarded to its destination from this point.

Arthur Dorrance and wife left this morning for Europe. A large number of friends met them at the depot to bid them farewell. They take the steamer "Illinois" today at 12 o'clock.

Last Friday morning, as John Stevens and his wife, of Byberry, were driving to market, in making a short turn, the wagon upset, and threw Mrs. Stevens violently to the ground, breaking her arm and collar bone, and inflicting other severe injuries.

The Commercial Insurance Company of Bristol have now over a quarter of a million of dollars of mutual policies. In view of the fact that owing to the extremely conservative management nearly half the applications are rejected, this is certainly a gratifying success.

Thomas Roberts & Co., the enterprising livery men, now supply a want long felt in this community. They commenced last Monday to run a stage in the borough, to and from the cars and boats. The enterprise will certainly W. Scott Wintermute, formerly with B. F. Allen, on Radcliffe street, has secured a position in the Pennsylvania Railroad office, at Philadelphia. He is in the room over which Mr. Henry Booz has control.

Rev. George Young, of Point Pleasant, this county, has purchased a farm of Jacob Vanmarter, near Ringoes station, N. J., on the Flemington R. R., containing 95 acres of land, at $105 per acre.

There is a letter in the Bristol Post office addressed to President U. S. Grant, Washington, D. C. It is held for postage, as the stamp which is affixed to it had been used before.

HULMEVILLE—The Board of Finance of the Centennial Commission have leased 40 acres of grass land of Jonathan Thomas at Edgington.

DOYLESTOWN—Now that the chilling frosts of winter are here the county jail is filled to overflowing with professional tramps, seeking shelter for the night. These tramps seem to travel in a body around and about our town doing nothing, lounging on the corners, bothering residents with petitions appeals for something to eat, or wear, and when night comes go to a justice of the peace getting a commitment and resting in the jail over night at the expense of the county. On Monday morning we counted 16 coming out and going in opposite directions for the day but meeting at the same place at night. . . .

A centennial sociable will be given at Cabene's hall on the first of December.

DOYLESTOWN—A very destructive fire took place at Dublin, a small village a few miles North of this place, on Tuesday night. The building was a new French roof dwelling house, belonging to Philip Bosard, living in Philadelphia. The flames caught in the shavings which were scattered over the floor, and rapidly consumed the entire building. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. The house was valued at $6,000, and was fully covered by insurance.

EDGELY

Mr. and Mrs. George Chambers, Jr., and son Kenneth, Windsor, N. J., were Tuesday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rothstein.

Miss Janet Banes spent Wednesday in Morrisville with Miss Marjorie Arnoldi. Mrs. R. Flannigan and daughters Edna, Ruth and Mildred, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Banes.

Miss Doris Bright fell from one of the amusements at Penn Valley Park during the school picnic on Wednesday and broke her wrist.

Miss Alice Wolvin and Kathryn Dick spent Sunday in Philadelphia visiting friends.

Mrs. William Southerly and sons, Harry and John, Philadelphia, are spending a week at the home of Arthur Wolvin, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. George Biehl and Mr. and Mrs. James Dugger, Philadelphia, were Thursday evening callers of Mrs. George Blinthe, Jr., and Mrs. Peter Biehl.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kerr and daughters Doris and Norma, the Misses Lillian and Arlene Reynolds motored to Collegeville and Pottstown, Sunday, and spent the day.

Mr. and Mrs. John Killian and family, Tullytown, have moved to Mrs. Thomas Livesey's bungalow on Grieb avenue.

Walter Cook has been ill for the past week.

HOWEVER

(By Arthur Reid)

If the Senate of the United States does not pre-emptorily yank William E. Dodd back from Berlin, where he is supposed to represent this Nation as ambassador, it will be derelict in its duty. Of course, the State Department could recall Dodd, but the State Department will not.

When Dodd wrote a letter to United States Senators informing them that a "certain American billionaire" was ready to foment or support a dictatorship in this country, his missive had all the earmarks of New Deal propaganda. Few were willing to believe, however, that a man holding the rank of Ambassador in the United States diplomatic service would make such a charge unless he had indisputable proof.

Dodd now admits that he has no proof. He now says it is "certain billionaires," not "a certain billionaire." And this startling information was disclosed to him, in confidence, while he was in this country in 1935 and 1936.

In other words, for two years the United States Ambassador to Germany has known that the Government of his country was in momentary danger of being overthrown by billionaires who desired to set up a dictatorship, but failed to make the startling news public.

When a political dynasty begins to crumble, how short a time it takes! The doddering Mr. Dodd, sensing the defeat of his leader's plan to abolish the independent Supreme Court and replace it with a subservient one, thought he would do something to help. He did, but in the wrong direction.

Whether it was a mistake to send Dodd as an envoy to a dictator nation the State Department is hardly in a position to say. Propinquity does things to men and leads them into unaccountable ways.

However, silly as the Dodd antics are, the United States Senate cannot afford to laugh them off. This bird should be summarily kicked out of the diplomatic service.

The only possible position of those whose motive is one of principle is unalterable opposition to compromise on the President's Supreme Court packing scheme. Senator Wheeler, of Montana, for one, opposes compromise on fewer additional justices than the six the Roosevelt scheme proposes.

As long as the purpose of appointing additional justices is to influence the court's opinion, every defender of a free and independent judiciary—in short, every defender of the American form of Government—must oppose it. No one, not even the President, any longer pretends that the court packing scheme has any purpose save to influence the opinions of the court.

America has taken its stand against tampering with the Supreme Court. The mail of Congressmen and Senators has been overwhelmingly opposed to adding additional justices.

Tampering with the Supreme Court, whether by the addition of one new justice or six, would destroy the democratic form of Government under which we have lived for 150 years. There can be no compromise on this issue!

A new electric bulb, giving ten per cent more light without using more electric current, has come from the laboratories of a great American electrical manufacturing firm. The bulb, which will soon be offered to the public, will save the consumers of electric current $16,500,000 annually, it is estimated.

To return to the use of the incandescent electric bulb invented by Edison sixty years ago would be inconceivable. Improved upon a dozen times since, the latest product must more than meet Edison's fondest hopes for his most important invention.

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE.

OUT-OF-DOOR eating and picnics begin to come into their own throughout the country as May slips into June.

Vegetable prices are somewhat lower, the most noticeable changes being in green beans, asparagus, cauliflower and lettuce. Beets and carrots are still relatively expensive.

Cherries and cantaloupes are in market but are far from cheap. Oranges, grapefruit, bananas, strawberries, pineapple and rhubarb continue to offer the best values.

Meats are higher, butter lower, eggs reasonable and fish a good choice.

Seasonable foods make up the following menus.

Low Cost Dinner
Roast Stuffed Breast of Lamb	Green Peas
Crowned Potatoes	Bread and Butter
Tea or Coffee	Apple Cream
Milk
Medium Cost Dinner
Broiled Chicken	Parsley Potatoes
Asparagus with Cream Sauce	Bread and Butter
Tea or Coffee	Rhubarb Pie
Milk
Very Special Dinner
Fruit Cup
Roast Turkey or Baked Ham	Green Beans
Potato Balls	Tomato Salad
Bread and Butter
Pineapple Ice Cream	Wafers
Coffee

Transatlantic Air Heads Study 'Way Stations' Problem

on its trans-Atlantic route as well, with the problem of construction of bases at the Azores and Lisbon up to the operations and diplomatic departments.

Should Pan-American swing northward, however, they will again use British facilities at Botwood, Newfoundland, where a $2,500,000 base is being constructed to handle seaplanes and land planes by Imperial.

Not far from the present air terminal site at Botwood, on which an army of men and a vast supply of construction equipment are already working to develop one of the largest airdromes of the world, two noted aviators—Alcock and Brown—took off for Europe in 1919 in an airplane that was little more than a "bird cage"—all wires.

But the barren wilderness is being hacked away to make room for cultivation. One square mile has been cleared for an airport which will have every modern facility for safe airplane operation and every convenience for airline passengers' comfort, including a complete hotel for over-night guests.

At Gander's Lake, less than two miles from the airport, a seaplane base is being constructed with exactly the same equipment excepting the hotel. The British Government put up 500,000 pounds for the development of this terminal and they are building it to last indefinitely, an indication of which is the fact that the airport runways are being built to support planes weighing 200,000 pounds.

Both the land and seaplane bases are expected to be ready for operation by Summer, yet operating plans for the British airline to this point have not yet been decided upon except that the line will fly the Newfoundland-Ireland-England route as many months of the year as possible. Botwood is said to be a spot unusually clear of fog and bad weather—which should aid the British intentions.

Foynes, Ireland, already has one of the best modern seaplane bases in existence and it will probably be this airdrome which Pan-American will use as its Irish stopping point.

Just what Pan-American has in mind in the way of a stop-over point in Greenland—where exploration parties have been nosing around for several years—has not yet been revealed. Whether the line will actually go into Greenland or skip it entirely is also a guarded secret.

(Note: In the final article, International News Service will describe the new planes developed for trans-Atlantic service and summarize the entire Atlantic air-line picture.)

The outdoor amateur boxing season will open tonight with ten bouts being booked in the St. Ann's arena, Wood and Franklin streets. The first bout is scheduled for 8.30 o'clock. The bouts are being sponsored by the St. Ann's Athletic Association with the sanction of the Middle Atlantic district of the A. A. U.

Match-maker Sammy Moffo has arranged one of the best cards to be presented in this vicinity. In his wind-up, he has Tony Puccio, the Bristol windmill, facing Pat DeCicco, hard-hitting right-hander from the Mason Club.

There will be seven Bristol boys on the card and Moffo predicts a victory for at least four of them. The localities besides Puccio are: Tally Sciarra, Joe Ferrara, Hokey Leighton, Vince Delia, Kaiser Cappello and Sylvester Purnell. Delia and Purnell are in wonderful shape, having appeared in tournaments in New Jersey. Delia went high in the Trenton tournament until eliminated by Tony Maglione, former St. Ann's fighter. Since then Delia has been on a winning streak and has copped four straight.

Purnell who got his start in a St. Ann's ring last summer also fought in the 165 pound class in the New Jersey tournament and was crowned champion. The officials tried to change the decision after the bout, claiming that the colored boy from Lahaska had fouled his opponent but Purnell demanded a hearing and the A. A. U. officials gave him the right to represent New Jersey in the Golden Gloves of New York. Purnell was in the semifinals in this tournament.

Tally Sciarra needs no introduction to the Bristol fans as he is the veteran of local amateur fighters. He fought in one tournament during the winter months and was beaten by the former 126 pound champion, Herbie Smith. "Hokey" Leighton, the Rescue Squad fighter who is on the go every minute of the three rounds is also scheduled. Hokey is the Bristol crowd-pleaser and always gives the fans their money's worth.

Kaiser Cappello and Joe Ferrara are novices, it being Cappello's second amateur bout and the first for Joe Ferrara who has been training since last winter.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE TO OPEN ITS THIRD WEEK

BRISTOL TWILIGHT LEAGUE
Schedule for Tonight
GRUNDY'S vs. SUPERIOR
(Leedon's Field)

Team	Won	Lost	%
Superior	3	0	1000
Hibernians	3	0	1000
Odd Fellows	1	2	667
St. Ann's	2	3	400
Grundy's	1	3	250
Rohm & Haas	1	3	250

The third week of the Bristol Twilight League finds the Superior Zinc Corporation nine and the Hibernians dividing first place honors with three victories and no defeats each. Both of these teams have three games scheduled for this week.

The only postponed game that may be played this week is the Rohm & Haas-Odd Fellows tilt which is scheduled for Wednesday night on the Edgeley diamond. There are two other postponed games on the list but these will be played later.

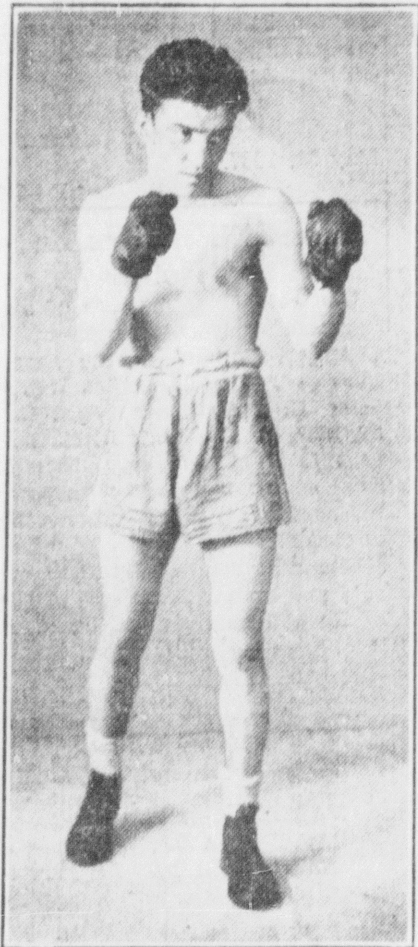

There was only one change made in the players' roster over the week-end, the Grundy team signing up Catcher Eddie Moran, former Bristol gives player. The signing of Moran gives the Grundy team its 18-player limit.

A large trophy has been presented to the Bristol Twilight League, which will be given to the champions of the loop. President Thomas Juno is attempting to secure a trophy to be given to the runner-up team of the circuit.

BRISTOL A. A. LOSES TO LOWER OLNEY, 7 TO 4

The Bristol A. A. lost to the strong Lower Olney team yesterday by the score of 7 to 4. The game was played on Lower Olney's ground. Leighton started and went good until the third inning when he walked five batters with two hits netted the Olney club six runs, when Whyno relieved Leighton and gave the Lower Olney team two hits in six innings. The feature was the hitting of Swope, Massilla and Mellor. Swope and Massilla had home runs. Both Hetrick and Ducey pitched good ball.

EDGELEY BRVES WIN TWICE OVER WEEK-END

Winning two games over the week-end, the Edgeley Braves made an impressive climb in the Trenton City League. Saturday, the Braves swamped the Mercerville nine, 12-1, and yesterday came through with a close 3-1 eleven-inning victory over the Kaplans.

In the game against Mercerville, the Braves found their batting eyes and lambasted three hurlers for a total of 17 hits. Every player on the club had at least one safe blow.

"Wils" Holland, besides pitching a magnificent game, led the batters with three doubles and a single in five trips to the plate. He was followed by Stan Carlen who ripped the fence for three singles in four trips to the platter. On the hill, Holland held the cellar dwellers to two lone bingles, a single by Murtet in the third and a double by Frank Griggs in the sixth. He walked two and fanned six.

Yesterday's tilt was a tight hurling match between "Spike" Hensell and Tommy Mayer. Mayer blanked the Braves for five frames and then allowed a tally when Billy Leigh singled and Stan Carlen kept up his hitting with a long double to left. A triple by Mayer and a long fly to right by Sutcliffe gave the Kaplans the deadlock-ing run in their turn.

UNDER OBSERVATION

William Armstrong, Monroe street, is under observation in Harriman Hospital.

Will Anzacs Trip U. S. Team?

Will Don Budge, ace of the United States Davis cup team, be the goat or hero when the American netters meet Australia in the American zone finals at Forest Hills the week-end of May 29? Budge has the responsibility of carrying four matches, two singles and two doubles with his partner, Gene Mako. On his slim shoulders, then, rest the hopes for recapturing the coveted trophy now held by England. Adrian Quist, star of the Australian team, is chief threat to the U. S. tennis aces in their campaign.

Three Hurt in Crash Near Lincoln Point

The crash, according to patrolman Harris, of Oxford Valley station, of the state highway patrol, occurred when the Csolak car and one operated by Michael Dudzinski, 2108 N. Bodine street, Philadelphia, crash. The Csolak car overturned. The machines were travelling in opposite directions.

Dudzinski was arrested by patrolman Harris on a charge of reckless driving. A hearing will occur this evening before justice of the peace John Melvin Fallsington.

Three persons riding with Dudzinski were unhurt. The operators of the vehicles were also unharmed.

The fenders were torn off the Csolak car, and the windows broken. On the Dudzinski machine the bumper was broken, and fenders bent.

A passerby took the three injured to the Trenton hospital.

One of four persons riding in an automobile driven by Carl Hoffman, Richboro, was injured when the car collided with another operated by Howard Sharpley, 26, South Amboy, N. J., at Cottman street and Castor road, Philadelphia, yesterday.

The injured was Miss Kathryn Cagney, 20, 6064 Loretta street, Frankford. She was treated at Frankford Hospital for cuts on the head and face and discharged. Both drivers were arrested by police of the Rising Sun avenue and Benner street station, Philadelphia.

His passing was so sudden that not even his secretary had time to reach "The Casements."

World Pays Tribute To John D. Rockefeller

be attached to the train at the station but will be picked up some distance away as the train leaves the city.

Elaborate precautions were taken to make the departure as quiet as was Rockefeller's life in this city. Ward Madison, Rockefeller's secretary, said the family wished to avoid the possibility of a crowd at the station.

The multi-millionaire's pastor, the Rev. Kerrison Juniper of the Ormond Union Church, said no funeral tribute will be paid him here. Members of the Union Church, who beamed when Rockefeller voiced his familiar "Good day and God bless you" greeting, adopted a resolution of tribute.

Despite his advanced years, Rockefeller's death came as a surprise to this resort city. Almost daily his automobile had been seen speeding along the beach as the oil magnate took his customary ride.

Rockefeller's son, John D. Jr., when he telephoned from his New York home Saturday noon, was assured there was no immediate danger. Saturday Rockefeller requested his secretary to read him the day's news and then discussed events of the day, showing much interest.

REVOLUTION on Main Street

GIVE a thought to Main Street as you scan today's headlines! All the world's excitement isn't in Europe.

For, in our town . . . and towns like ours clear across the country . . . there's a daily revolution going on. Changes in dress styles and food prices . . . the rise of a hat crown . . . the fall of furniture prices—these matters vitally affect our daily living. . . . And the news is ably, fully covered in advertisements. Here, in concise, meaty form, makers of the world's goods tell you what's new, what's good . . . and how to make your dollars S-T-R-E-T-C-H.

Smart people who like to be up-to-the-minute in living and current events, follow advertisements as closely as headlines. They know what's doing in Europe and America . . . but they also know where money buys most!

Newcomers Challenge Veteran Radio Stars

One of the major developments of the radio season now in transition from its winter peak to the traditional summer lull has been the rise of several talented newcomers who challenge the reign of the veteran stars. Dorelle Alexander, Shirley Ross, Betty Winkler, Francis White and Doris Robbins are among the more promising yearlings. While Hollywood has provided featured players for an increasing number of broadcasts, the studios have also borrowed from the airwaves, taking Dorothy Lamour and Harriett Hilliard from among the radio headliners. Radio had its biggest season during the past twelvemonth, due partly to revenue from the political campaign and partly to the many new commercial programs which have been scheduled.
